

ARGENTINA WORLD MISSIONS NETWORK CELEBRATES 25 YEARS

"Our commitment: until everyone knows!"

On Wednesday the 10th of October 2007 the Argentine Network of World Missions (Red Misiones Mundiales) celebrated its 25th anniversary of adhering to its motto, "Our commitment: until everyone knows!"

This important event took place in the church La Puerta Abierta, situated in the heart of Buenos Aires. The auditorium was full to beyond capacity, requiring many of those present to stand throughout the service. Flags, posters representing people groups from around the world, and missions stands added a touch of authenticity. Many people began to arrive well before the start of the service, demonstrating their desire to know more about how God is advancing the work of missions through His church in Argentina.

Prior to the main meeting there were two workshops that began at 5 p.m.: one for mobilizers, led by Stanley Clark Jr., and with the participation of various missions leaders; and one for missionaries, with Claudia Bustamante, Carlos Scott, Daniel Bianchi, and Dave and Judy Oltrogge—retired missionaries with Wycliffe Bible Translators. Both workshops were well-attended and were greatly appreciated by those who attended.

Program of Inspiration

The opening part of the main service began just before 8 p.m. with a special concert of praise. Excellent musicians, choir and orchestra were directed by Leticia Clark. Following that, master of ceremonies Daniel Bianchi (member of Executive Board of the Network) formally opened the meeting. Canal Luz T.V. transmitted the entire program live to hundreds of places around the world.

Following the invocation, the flag of Argentina was presented, followed by missionaries dressed in national costumes who, in turn, were followed by about 30 students from the Río de la Plata Bible Institute (Union of the Assemblies of God), carrying flags from around the world. All this blended together in a time of intense

People praying for the world.

Dr. Palau presenting the Word.

Carlos Scott with missionaries.

Federico Bertuzzi and Daniel Bianchi.

intercession by small groups, praying on behalf of the world as well as for missionaries. Two former presidents of the Network were on the program: Marcelo Abel and Edgardo Sureñian.

Federico Bertuzzi, founder of the Network and its president and director for many years, and who had come from Spain expressly for the anniversary event, was then introduced. In his talk, he underscored the pioneer spirit of the mission's movement in Argentina along with its commitment to the Gospel and the cross of Christ as the only means of salvation for all peoples, thus placing the mission's enterprise in Argentina on a solid doctrinal foundation.

Following this, people from the congregation mentioned the names of pioneers who brought the Gospel to Argentina and left as missionaries. Throughout the service, a profound and deeply-felt spirit of praise was manifested through the music presented by Leticia Clark and various musicians. An especially emotional moment was when a song was sung by various well-known Argentine musicians joined by children of missionaries. The offering that was taken was designated in its entirety to help pay the expenses of cross-cultural missionaries who will attend a retreat on their behalf, scheduled for January, 2008.

Palau Message

The message brought by Dr. Luis Palau, which traveled specially to be part of this celebration and for the 25th Anniversary of the Evangelical Alliance of Argentina (ACIERA), based on Romans 12:1-2, was a challenge to commitment to missions, whether by going or sending. He illustrated the call to a 'holy lunacy' for missions by referring to the life of faith of William Cameron Townsend. Palau was deeply moved as he noted the growth of the missionary movement in Argentina and urged those involved to continue to move ahead with passion and commitment. A few moments later, leaders of sending agencies, pastors of sending churches (that have missionaries in the field), parents of missionaries, and members of the Network of World Missions, came forward.

Words of encouragement and blessing were then directed to the national missions movement by pastors who were present, as well as by representatives of the Pentecostal Evangelical Confederation (CEP) Rev. Ciro Crimi, ACIERA Rev. Rubén Proietti, and COMIBAM International Rev. Carlos Scott who is also a former president of the Network. Many others joined in the celebration through letters of greeting, such as Rev. Hugo Márquez, Rev. Pedro Slachta, and various other COMIBAM offices in Latin America, to mention a few.

The Network is composed of many local (sending) churches. Also there are many missions department of denomination such as: Assemblies of God, Baptist Convention, Church of God (Cleveland), Armenian Church, Mission Christian Assembly, Brethrens Assembly, Foursquare Gospel Church, Congregational Church, Iglesia Rios de Vida. Together with them the Network has an important representation of ministries like: YWAM, OM, Campus Crusade for Christ, PM Internacional, Frontiers, CCMT, LETRA, MAIN, CEC International, Ministerio Crecer, Mision Austral, and many more.

Answer to the Call

After that, Luis Palau invited all those who had made a commitment to missions to come forward. Dozens of people responded, and pastors and missionaries prayed for and with them. Finally, Stanley Clark Jr., as president of the Network, challenged those present to increase their efforts in praying, giving, sending and contagious enthusiasm for missions. And so, the event came to an end, with words of gratitude directed to those who organized it, and a special song. Following this, there were opportunities for personal encounters, greetings, and visits to the various missions stands that provided additional challenges and information.

A recurring theme, expressed by brothers and sisters at this time was the testimony of having been blessed that evening. An evening of rededication to the commitment: "Until everyone knows!"

Purpose of the Network

The Network was borne in June of 1982 responding to a challenge given by Dr. Palau to pastors in a national retreat. Since then its main purpose is to connect, mobilize, equip and assist churches and believers in Argentina in a way that results in the sending of

Word of encouragement for the members of the Network.

People made decisions for missions.

Stanley Clark Jr. with mobilizers.

Lunch of the Network Board.

missionaries to the less-reached peoples and languages.

The Network has been a member of COMIBAM International since 1986 and is working together with the National Mission Movements of Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay. The World Missions Network is focus in strategic areas:

- Pastors and Churches
- Mobilization
- Training
- Sending,
- Member Care

Each of the above has a national coordinator. The Network also enjoys a national presence through regional representations. As it has been noted already, sending churches, mission agencies and training centers are members of the Network representing a very wide range of denominations and organizations. Dr. Ruben Proietti (President of the well-known Evangelical Alliance of Argentina, ACIERA) has stated that the Red Misiones Mundiales is a model of unity and commitment for the whole church in Argentina.

The Network has wide international connections. For instance, it is represented in the Mission Commission of the World Evangelical Alliance (WEA) through Carlos Scott and Daniel Bianchi.

The Network is also in contact with and is willing to give advice and orientation to international missions that are considering serving in Argentina and/or the region in a partnership relation to enhance the participation of the Latin Church in world missions.

Until everyone knows!

Rev. DANIEL BIANCHI
Director COMIBAM Southern Cone

danielbianchi@gmail.com
www.comibamconosur.blogspot.com
www.mm-comibam.org

NOTE

Executive leadership of the Network: Stanley Clark Jr. (President), Marcelo Abel (Training), Carlos Zahradnizec (Regions), Claudia Bustamante (Member Care), Edgardo Surenian (Pastors and local churches) Daniel Bianchi (mission organizations and sending).

COMIBAM Internacional